

COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT CLAIM

If you have reason to believe that (i) any material on this web site infringes on any copyright which you own or control, or (ii) any material on this web site which contains material that infringes on any copyright which you own or control, you should give notice of such infringement to the copyright owner or the copyright owner's agent in accordance with the Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. § 512(c)(2).

1. The notice must be sent to the copyright owner or a person legally authorized to act for the copyright owner.
2. The notice must be sent to all persons you know have a right to receive notice of an infringement claim or, if more than one person has a right to receive notice of an infringement claim, to all of them.
3. The notice must describe the material that is claimed to be infringing and where the material is located at the time you receive this notice.
4. The notice must include a statement that you believe in good faith that the use of the material is not authorized by the copyright owner. If signed by an attorney, the notice must include a statement that you have no knowledge or belief that the information in the notice is false or misleading.
5. The owner or agent authorized to act for the owner must agree to accept and act on behalf of the owner in receiving or accepting for the owner any legal action or proceeding that may be initiated by the owner, the owner's agent, or any person claiming to be the owner or agent authorized to act for the owner.
6. The owner or agent authorized to act for the owner must agree to provide the information in the notice in the format and to the extent that the information is reasonably available to the copyright owner or the owner's agent.
